THE NEW MIRROR.

Every number embellished with A BEAUTIFUL STEEL ENGRAVING.

EDITED BY C. P. MORRIS AND N. P. WILLIS.

Reasons for taking the New Mirror.

Three dollars cannot buy so much literary and pictorial value in any other shape.

Fifty-two highly finished steel engravings are given in the course of the year.

The literary contents are the freshest and best that can be furnished by the experienced taste and industry of its editors.

The type and paper are not excelled by those of any other periodical.

A splendid book to bind and preserve is in your hands at the close of the year containing every of current interest worth remembering, and many invaluable gems of literature and art.

A delightful visitor to your family circle is such a Saturday paper.

By the year each number cost but five-pence, though there are in it sixteen pages of the choicest matter and a picture such as could not be bought singly at the print shops for less than two shilling.

It will cost you nothing to send your subscription, as postmasters are authorized to enclose it to the editors postage free.

The New Mirror is a novelty in letters and in art. It is a Saturday paper, containing superbly printed octavo pages, (enclosed in a neat cover), and a costly and beautiful steel engraving. Fifty-two of these are given in the course of the year—an experiment hitherto unattempted either at home or abroad—together with eight hundred and thirty-two closely printed pages of the choicest matter, and all for the trifling and very disproportionate cost of three dollars to subscribers. It is edited with great care and enriched with original papers from the best writers of the day. It seeks to gratify every reader of taste, by cheerful sketches of society, tales of romance and humor, gaiety and gravities, domestic and foreign correspondence, wit and pathos, and literary, musical, (and occasionally) dramatic criticism. The very low price at which it is published places it within the reach of every one disposed to obtain a valuable, amusing and refined Parlor Journal, published in weekly numbers but also intended for preservation as a choice volume for the library, filled with the gems of literature and the fine arts.

Those who send the amount of subscription direct to the undersigned, shall receive the paper by mail or other wise with the utmost punctuality, and enclosed in strong wrappers, so as to preserve the engravings from injury. In most country places it is impracticable to have agents, but any person desiring to subscribe can have their letter enclosing the amount, franked by the nearest post-master, (who has the right and generally the courtesy to do so), and by sending directly to the undersigned, all risk of disappointment will be avoided.

BOTANICO-MEDICAL COLLEGE OF OHIO.

THIRD street, one door east of Broadway, Cincinnati, Ohio, in sight of the Post Office, of almost the whole of Third and Lower Market streets, and of a good portion of the river and the city in general, stands a building of very singular appearance, once called Madame Trollope's Bazaar, lately the Ohio Mechanics' Institute, and now the Botanical-Medical College of Ohio, where all persons desirous to learn anything about true Medical Reform, will find the Professors of said College, ready to furnish them with advice, lectures, books, papers, pure Botanic Medicines, and the best Medical practice yet known. Profs. Curtis and H. W. Hill have their office in the College.

The next course of Lectures will commence on the first Monday in November, and continue seventeen weeks. We have a sufficient number of men of the right stamp for Professors, and among other means of illustration, a series of splendid Botanical paintings, a good herbarium, and the celebrated Manikin or Artificial Man, in which all the important parts of the human body are constantly presented to the eye, in their natural appearance.

The branches taught in the college are, Anatomy and Physiology, Surgery and Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Chemistry and Botany, Materia Medica and Pharmacy, Neurology, Medical Jurisprudence, &c.

From four or five lectures per day, illustrated by constant practice in the infirmary, in which there is a sufficient variety of diseases for all the purposes of instruction. It is presumed that the Professors will be the same as heretofore, with, perhaps, two more. The price of all the tickets will not exceed seventy-five dollars. Books usually amount to twenty or thirty, boarding to thirty or forty.

Gentlemen who can bring us satisfactory evidence, that they have been engaged for four years or more in general and successful practice, may, if they make a good use of their time and opportunities here, graduate and for te course. We know many a practitioner in different parts of the country, who might do this, but we know of no one who would have reason to regret, after he had done it, the time or the money expended. We have had several who were over 50 years old.

National Magazine

LITERATURE, ART AND FASHION.

Graham's Lady's and Gentleman's Magazine.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1843.

EDITORS.

J. FENNIMORE COOPER, RICH'D.

H. DANA, WM. CULLEN BRYANT,

H. W. LONGFELLOW, CHARLES

F. HOFFMAN, T. C. GRATTAN.

GRAHAM'S is the oldest and most popular of the American Literary Magazine. The number for January, 1843, will be the first of the 35th volume. It is long and universally successful career, from its commencement with a few hundred subscribers, until the present time, when it is permeated as good an evidence of its great and growing merit as the publisher has it in his power to offer. To his old subscribers, he trusts no assurance is necessary of his determination to maintain its present ascendancy over all the rival periodicals of the country. The engagement, during the past year, of such men as BRYANT, COO-PER, DANA, LONGFELLOW, HOFFMAN, MANCER, &c., of high reputation in the literary world, as regular contributors, in addition to a precious list embracing many of the first names in the nation, is a sufficient guarantee that the work will continue to be the principle medium of communication between the best authors and the public. Among the attractions of the thirty-fifth volume, will be several TALES by Mr. J. F. Cooper, Mr. Grattan, Mr. Hoffman, Mr. Herbert, Miss Leslie, Mary

Clayton, Mrs. Embury, Mrs. Eliot and Mrs. Stephens; poems by Mr. Bryant, Mr. Dana, Mr.

Longfellow, Mr. Street, Mrs. Schu Smith, Mrs.

Osgood, and Mrs. Sigourney; essays by Mr. Fay, Mr. Jones, Mr. Tuckerman, Mr. Poe, &c. &c.

Here follows a more full list of the great number of contributors, the most distinguished of the country which we omit for want of room.

Graham's Lady's and Gentleman's Magazine has been from its establishment more than any other, the favorite periodical of the greater sex.

Though its plan does not entirely exclude articles of the most important character, such as have raised Blackwood's and some other foreign journals to their high influence and reputation, its pages will be principally devoted to what is usually termed light literature. It will be distinguished from other publications of similar aims by the literary and artistic merit of its contents. No writer of any of its kind, whose works are known or unknown, contributes to this is the most eminent author of our age and country; the very creators, founders, of our National Literature. Especially is it celebrated as containing the choicest productions of the finest female writers of the time. Every number contains gems which may be appealed to with pride by the sex as vindicating their intellectual eminence.

SPLENDID EMBELLISHMENTS.

In the department of Engravings it is well known that Graham's Magazine has surpassed any periodical work ever published in America or in any country. The highest ambition of rival publishers seems thus far to have been to maintain a respectable imitation of the numerous costly and beautiful works of art with which the successive numbers of this journal have been graced. In the course of the succeeding volumes many important new features will be introduced. Sartin and Sade the most celebrated Mezzotint Engravers in the Union, and equals of the best in Europe, will contribute to furnish their exquisite productions; and Rawdon, Wright and Hatch, G. Parker, A. L.

Dick, Gimbridge, Jackson, Jones and others, a New York, and London, Welch and Watson

Tucker and others, of Philadelphia—all among the most eminent line engravers of the present century, have been engaged to furnish a succession of highly finished steel engravings, superior to any that have hitherto appeared in periodicals. Among the pictures that will be engraved for the volumes in 1843, are several ORIGINAL PAINTINGS, by Ingham, Inman, Cole, Thompson, Freeman, Franchinet, and other distinguished artists. The American periodicals have hitherto contained, save in a very few instances, only engravings copied from the original paintings. The publisher of Graham's Magazine will be the first to reform the practice, and to make his work strictly original in its embellishments as well as in its literary contents.

OUR PORTRAIT GALLERY.—One of the new features of the coming volumes will be the introduction of Portraits of the contributors to Graham's Magazine, which of course, will include nearly all the eminent writers of the day. The 35th volume will include, from the portraits of Parker, Johnson and others, never before engraved in the highest style of the art, of Mr. Cooper, Professor Longfellow, Maria D. Occidente, Mrs. Sigourney, Miss

Sedgwick, Mrs. Schu Smith, Mrs. Embury and several others—all from paintings executed expressly for the purpose.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT will continue to embrace notes on current literature etc., and reviews of all new American and foreign works of general interest or value. The criticisms of Graham's Magazine are acknowledged in all parts of the country to be superior in acumen, boldness and independence to those of any contemporary. Indeed, while a majority of the monthly and quarterly journals have become mere advertising media for the booksellers, in which every thing

'in print' is indiscriminately praised, this periodical is looked upon as a just and discriminating arbitrator between authors and readers, in which both have implicit confidence.

TERMS.

Graham's Magazine will be published on the first of each month in every quarter of a Union.

The most distant subscribers will therefore receive it on that day, as well as those who reside in Philadelphia. The proprietor being more desirous of presenting the best and most beautiful than the cheapest work in the country, and anxious to bring it within the reach of all, offers the following as the lowest terms at which it can be afforded—

THREE DOLLARS per annum in advance for a single copy, or two copies yearly for five dollars, five copies for ten dollars, eight for fifteen dollars, or eleven for twenty dollars. [Labels furnished as usual invariably in advance. Postage of all letters to be pre-paid. GEORGE R. GRAHAM,
